26th Nordic Congress of Gerontology
June 8 - 10, 2022 Odense, Denmark

Change and Continuity
On behalf of the Nordic Gerontological Federation, the Danish Society of Gerontology, and the Danish Geriatric Society, we welcome you to the 26th Nordic Congress of Gerontology in Odense (26NKG).

We have been looking forward to seeing you – finally, we may add. As most of you know, due to the corona pandemic the 25th Nordic Congress was postponed from 2020 to 2021. Moreover, the congress was completed online, and we all missed the opportunity to visiting lovely Iceland. Even though it was a fantastic congress providing good opportunities to give and receive new knowledge, being together in person is something quite different. To quote the president of the Nordic Gerontological Society Steinunn Thordardottir, “the greatest magic usually happens between formal sessions, when meeting the „rock-star“ of your field during a coffee break or tracking down a researcher from another country who shares your interests and might be a good collaborator”.

The theme of this year’s congress is CHANGE & CONTINUITY. Life is about change and continuity. We experience ourselves and our surroundings differently throughout life. For most people, later life is often characterized by major transitions, moving towards frailty and multiple losses – but it may also be a life with more time to engage in preferred activities, to explore new possibilities, and to come to terms with or embrace new challenges. The corona pandemic proved to be a challenge to the world beyond imagination, particularly to frail and vulnerable people and societies. However, it has also given us valuable new insights and reminded us of the values in life.

We are extremely pleased to have received a large number of high-quality abstracts on a great variety of topics, reflecting the five pillars of the Nordic Gerontological Federation: biological and medical sciences; health sciences; behavioural and social sciences; humanities and arts; and social research, policy and practice. This has resulted in a promising scientific programme that includes 8 keynote speeches, 44 symposia, more than 100 free oral presentations and 160 posters. We hope that this congress, like others before it, will prompt fruitful meetings and new collaborations.

Odense in springtime provides a stimulating and cheerful backdrop for the congress – days are getting longer, trees are freshly leaved, and (hopefully) the sun is luring people out into the parks and streets. We wish you a pleasant stay and a productive congress.

Let the magic begin!
